Reaching New Heights with The Fall Party @ Keeler

On behalf of Keeler Tavern Museum & History Center we would like to send out a heartfelt Thank You to everyone who supported our Fall Party @ Keeler on September 29 to benefit our Education Initiative. Thanks to the generosity of the attendees and sponsors, we now have the funds secured to continue to offer for another year our full suite of school programs in Social Studies and Civics to area students, including students from underserved communities.

For centuries Keeler Tavern has been a gathering place where people come to enjoy each other's company, indulge in good food and libations, renew old acquaintances and make new friends. This year's inaugural Fall Party @ Keeler reached new heights as the social event in town not to be missed. Conceived by a young and energetic committee, the Fall Party spilled out across the historic campus, from the rustic Tavern to the elegant Garden House surrounded by lush gardens to the classic Carriage Barn. Guests were led along candle lit walkways to explore the many charming indoor and outdoor spaces. From the moment the doors opened at the Visitor Center to the time the afterparty closed at the Carriage Barn Lounge, people couldn't stop raving about this event. Everything looked spectacular and everyone had a terrific time. It truly was a magical night!

We are grateful to our fabulous Fall Party committee, Christine Boris, Josh Fischer, Jenn Hansen and Kit Keidel, for giving us a special event that set a new tone for successful fundraising. Their hard work and unrelenting enthusiasm in light of multiple obstacles, such as looming rain and considerable competition in town, is much appreciated.

All funds raised at The Fall Party support our full-day, immersive and curriculum-aligned school programs in Social Studies and Civics for students in Pre-K to grade 12. Last year, some 2,325 students attended 37 programs from 21 area schools in 7 different towns. About half of the students come from Ridgefield schools and about a quarter are from Title 1 Schools in underserved communities, including Danbury and Bridgeport. Without the generous support of our Fall Party attendees and sponsors we could not continue to offer these programs, which ensure an education rich in history and civics so crucial to our democracy.

With gratitude,

*Hilary Micalizzi, Board President
Keeler Tavern Museum and History Center*

*Hildegard M. Grob
Executive Director*

Farmingville 3rd Grade Teachers Received Award at Fall Party @ Keeler

Farmingville Elementary School 3rd grade teachers Christine Parsons, Emily Casolo and Beth Zawatski were honored at the Fall Party at the Keeler Tavern Museum and History Center.

The Anna Keeler Teaching Award for Excellence in History and Civics Education was given for collaborating with Keeler Tavern Museum & History Center's education staff in developing a new program called Early Settlement a new full-day, curriculum-grounded program. Utilizing the Museums' extensive resources and collections the program teaches about Ridgefield's early days, including the use of maps and 18th century ledgers to understand basic principles of geography and economics, respectively, by engaging students in interdisciplinary learning using the Museum as a classroom extension. The 3rd grade team at Farmingville Elementary School (FES) who received the Award are Christine Parsons, Emily Casolo and Beth Zawatski. Established in 2015, the award recognizes teachers whose passion and dedication motivate students to understand how the past shapes the present and informs the future.

"We're proud and honored to be this year's recipient of the Anna Keeler Award," said Emily Casolo on behalf of her colleagues. "We've never had a museum ask what they could do for us! The Keeler Tavern education team was so open-minded. They were positive risk takers, like us---focused on what was best for our students. We are so appreciative of their willingness to dive into something totally unfamiliar and meet the needs of our new Integrated Studies curriculum. It all came together to create this inspiring experience for our curious learners."

Adds Principal Susan Gately, "The positive response from the Keeler Tavern education team and the depth of their knowledge and resources allowed our Farmingville Grade

3 teacher team to open a whole new and authentic avenue of learning for our students."

According to Melissa Houston, KTM&HC Director of Education, the Early Settlement program was a success because of the active participation of the teachers. "The teachers were willing to try new ideas and to fully engage in hands-on learning. We truly appreciate how they welcomed us into their curriculum!"

In its inaugural year, the Fall Party @ Keeler benefits KTM&HC's Education Initiative. All proceeds from the event support the Museum's school programs, which provide students from Ridgefield and area schools with immersive learning experiences in three-centuries of history and civics.

Hildegard Grob, Executive Director

Who is Anna Keeler?

Anna Keeler (1787 – 1852) was the youngest surviving child of Timothy and Esther Keeler, who operated the Keeler Tavern during the Revolutionary War. When her brother William died in 1827, Anna inherited the Tavern after her older brothers quitclaimed the property to her. Then in 1829, she married her long time suitor Abijah Resseguie and together ran what they called the Resseguie Hotel. Anna Marie, their only child, was born in 1830. At the time a woman who married became part of her husband's family and was thus removed from her family's line of inheritance.

As a young woman Anna Keeler taught at Whipstick School, one of several one-room schools in Ridgefield, where she was paid 10 shillings a week. Later Anna insisted on teaching her immigrant Irish maids how to read and write. Anna spent her entire life in Ridgefield, living to be 75. Her portrait and that of Abijah can be seen in the Resseguie Dining Room.

The Anna Keeler Award given to teachers each year has been named in honor of this early educator.

FALL PARTY @ KEELER

In a lovely late September evening members and friends of the Keeler Tavern Museum and History Center enjoyed a very special Fall Party @ Keeler.

Guests enjoyed hors d'oeuvres, dinner and drinks and had the pleasure of strolling the campus. They were entertained by live music and a roving magician. All had an opportunity to take part in the raffle, and live and silent auctions. Thank you to all the donors and sponsors who made this evening possible. This major fund raising event for the Keeler Tavern Museum and History Center was planned by Christine Boris, Joshua Fischer, Jenn Hansen and Kit Kiedel.

The evening ended with an After Party in the Carriage Barn and all left as the votive lights still twinkled.

Annual Meeting

This year's Annual Meeting was held in the Garden House on the evening of October 22nd. Members and staff met in the Garden House where they enjoyed a delicious buffet dinner preceded by drinks and hors d'oeuvres.

Before the business meeting, President Hilary Micalizzi introduced Dr. Leslie Lindenauer, WSCU, who spoke on the Power of Historical Memory to the interested audience.

The financial report was shown and discussed and the Board of Directors for the fiscal year July 1, 2018, through June 30, 2019 was presented to the members. Three new members were added to the board: Christine Boris, Jenn Hansen and David Perkins. Questions from the members concerning the financials were answered by Executive Director Hildegard Grob.

Earlier this year Charlie Pankenier resigned as a Board member. We thank him for all the work he has done for the KTM&HC and all he continues to do.

Tavern Tidbits

Joel Third, Board member of the KTM&HC spoke early in November at the Ridgefield Library about some of the historic maps in his collection. He told the fascinating story of America's discovery through using these maps. The maps will be on display at the library through November.

The play "Sisters", based on the relationship between Anna Marie Resseguie and her servant, Phillis Dubois by Joan Hudson and Royal Shirée will be presented again in the spring. The play explores the lives of two women of different races living in the same house.

Gradually the staff is moving from the second floor of the Tavern Building to the second floor of the Visitor's Center, 152 Main Street which has been newly renovated.

Early in November William D. McEachern spoke about The Battle of Glendale. Lee's Lost Opportunity to end the Civil War. He is the brother of Margo McEachern Gift Shop Manager.

Scarecrows Scarecrows & more Scarecrows

During the 6th Annual Scarecrow Contest, scarecrows decorated the business area of Ridgefield's downtown for the last weeks of October. These varied and unusual creatures were dressed by businesses and residents of Ridgefield. The Scarecrow Contest was part of Ridgefield's Fall in Love with Ridgefield weekend.

The wooden frames to decorate the scarecrows were purchased in the weeks before from the Museum and returned ready for display. They were installed along Main Street shopping district. Friends and families were able to vote for their favorites.

Threading the Needle: From Field to Fabric

As part of its planned #HandsOnHistory program, KTM&HC installed Threading the Needle: From Field to Fabric in the Carriage Barn. Throughout October Sunday lectures accompanied the exhibit.

The growth and development of raw materials to make linen, wool and silk fabrics was on exhibit. Families with children were able to participate in preparing and spinning fibers, and dying cloth. The exhibit provided an opportunity for visitors to learn where Ridgefielders acquired the fabrics they needed for clothing, bedding and other uses.

The Exhibit was installed by Catherine Prescott, Assistant Museum Director; Erika Askin and Karen McChesney, Curators.

REDWARE

Redware is a clay-bodied ware heated in a low-fired kiln at 1,700 to 1,800 degrees F. It has a porous clay body made impermeable only by the use of a glaze, typically lead-based

The clays needed for redware production are found in much of the United States. Whether the clay is gray, blue, yellow or red when dug from the ground, the iron deposits in the clay turn it the characteristic color of red when fired. At times this color varies from a red-brown to orange, depending on the firing temperature and the mineral content of the clay. The lead in the glaze may have resulted in a shortened life span for the potter and an unhealthy choice for food service for the patron as well. Many had no available alternatives for dishes.

Donors Keep Us in Business

Many people don't realize that Keeler Tavern Museum & History Center receives no government support for its operations. And that means every gift is vital. From mid-June through October 31, 2018, nearly 100 people gave generously, many of them doing so at our Fall Party on September 29, 2018. Funds raised through the Fall Party are dedicated to our school programs, which bring to life our site's stories for nearly 2,500 students yearly.

Our Capital Campaign continues, helping us raise the money needed to transform our newly expanded campus. For example, thanks to dedicated volunteers, all of them former employees of IBM Corporation who keep track of their donated hours, KTM&HC was eligible for and received a $2,000 Community grant, which will be used for audio visual equipment in the new Visitor Center. When you see any of these special people—Beth Hancock, Patty Linnon, Charlie Pankenier, John Somma—please thank them!

The capital campaign received an extra boost earlier this year from a local philanthropist whose challenge to us—to raise $50,000 by December 31—is generating gifts of all sizes. Motivated by the donor's 1:1 match, 42 generous individuals responded between June through the end of October, including Theresa and Dean Miller and Barbara and Bill Wyman, who made multi-year pledges.

Our total for the Cannonball Challenge is nearly $17,000. Your help is needed if we're to make the $50,000 goal by year end and earn the match, for a total of $100,000 raised! You can do so easily by going to the Capital Campaign tab on our website.

The membership drive for 2019 is about to get underway—and we owe thanks to the people who add something extra or bump their membership up a level when they renew or join. Members who put a little (or a lot!) extra on the “donation” line on the membership form are true heroes. Please join them if you can. Every little bit counts!

Angela Liptack, Associate Director

Make History: Rock The Tavern!

Participate in our Cannonball Challenge. A generous local philanthropist has challenged KTM&HC to raise $50,000 by December 31st. All gifts will be matched, dollar-for-dollar, for a total of $100,000. Take the challenge, and your gift will help us finish the Visitor Center renovations.
